

The secrets that'll make you
Love your job!

Change your password!

Most of us type in a password about half a dozen times during the workday, says Noelle Nelson, Ph.D., author of The Power of Appreciation in Business. "The message a password sends is constantly in your face. If that message is an upbeat one that reflects positive feelings, like 'greatjob' or 'workisgood,' your subconscious will get a little lift every time you turn on your computer, and so will you!"

The image features a close-up of a computer keyboard. A key with a white keycap featuring a black key icon is highlighted. Below it, the keys for 'S' and 'D' are visible. The text is overlaid on the right side of the keyboard image.